
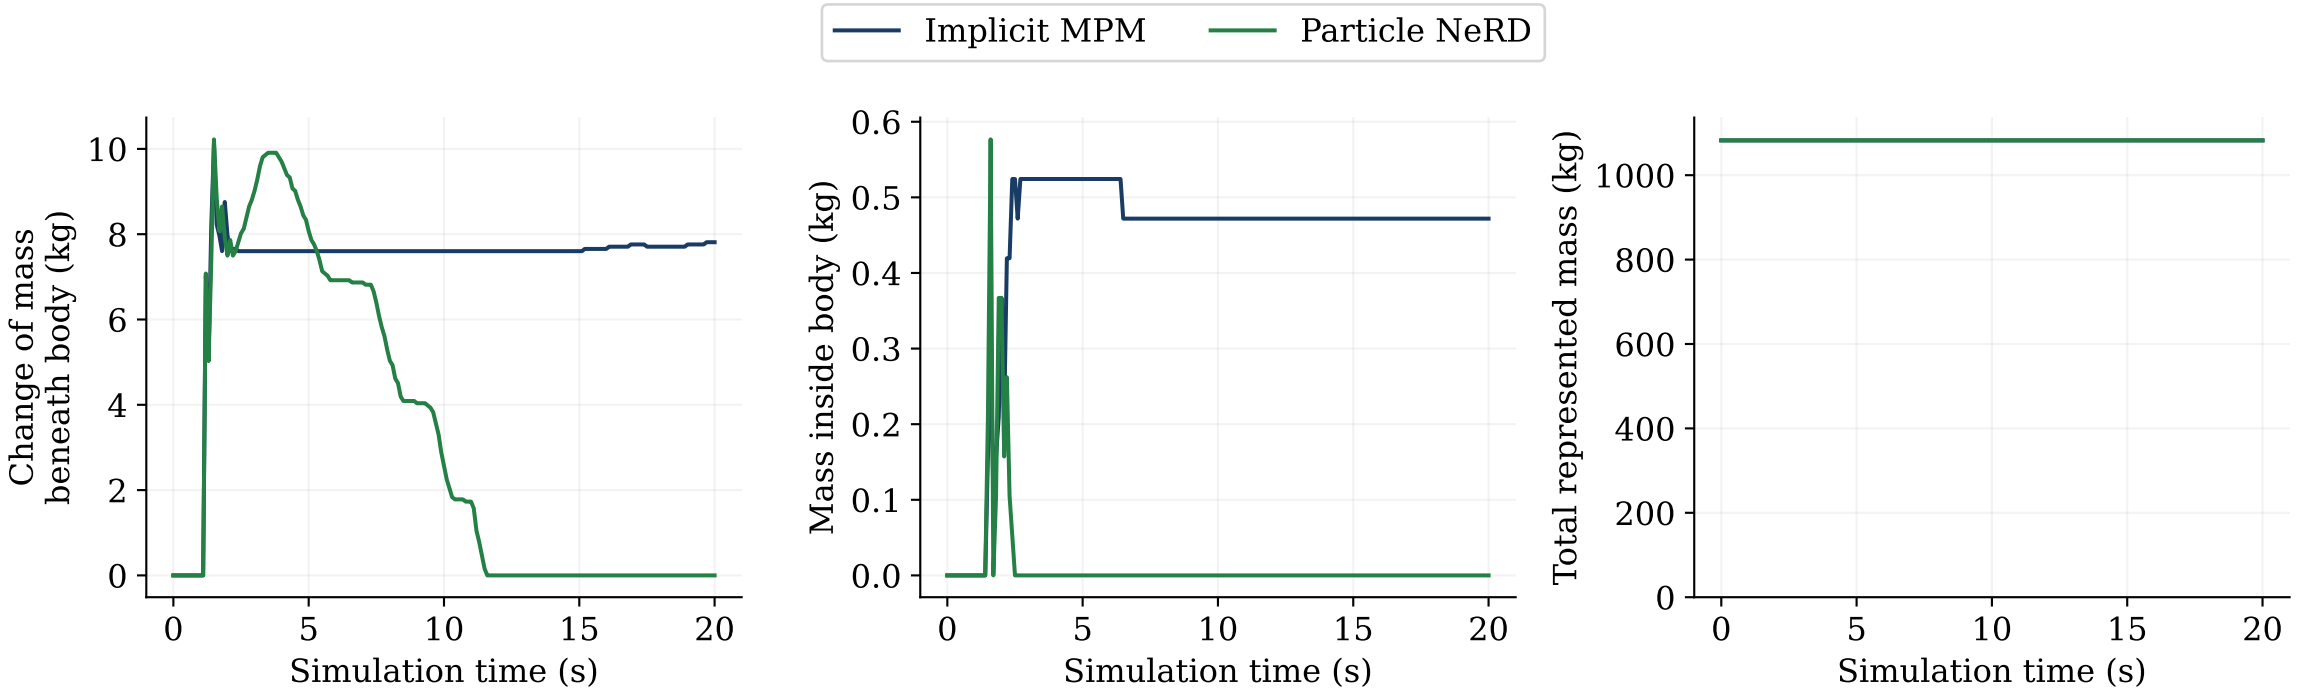

Figure 5: Physical material mass in one paired rollout. Left: change from the initial mass beneath the body; center: mass of particles whose centers lie inside the interacting body; right: mass of all represented particles. The lower region uses the horizontal rectangle enclosing the body, from 0 to 0.10 m below its lowest point, clipped above the rigid tray floor. Both methods use the same recorded body pose and physical particle masses.